

GRETA GUZEK

Greta embraces and captures the spirit of the West Coast. Her intricate designs and vivid colours have become a distinctly joyful feature of her artwork, which has gained wide appeal throughout Canada. She grew up in South Africa and moved, in 1980 to Vancouver, working as a designer and illustrator. Since 1990, Greta has lived and worked as a painter from her studio on the Sunshine Coast, BC.

“Having lived on the west coast for thirty years, I feel integration with its character, and it has become a vehicle for my artistic expression. Through the familiar sketches of life, I create a bond with viewers, which allows me to converse with them on an aesthetic level. I paint in a way to express my involvement with the subject; I simplify and distort the forms, enhance the expressive value of colour and create a rhythm that animates the scene. In this way I develop a visual language that conveys my sense of wonder and materializes the spirit of joy that I feel.” – Greta Guzek
